

Campaign for Natural Gas

12.10.2011 ConocoPhillips is launching a broad information campaign on the use of natural gas. The campaign focuses on the importance of natural gas as an energy source.

Natural gas is a clean-burning fossil fuel, with clear environmental benefits, and there is abundant supply of natural gas around the world. It is considered as an affordable form of energy produced in a safe and environmentally responsible manner for private households as well as the industry and electric power generation.

A website has been created - with useful information about natural gas. Click on the link to go to

<http://www.powerincooperation.com>