

Vacant Summer Projects for Students

19.01.2011 Updated: Application date has expired.

Students in their third or fourth year of study can now apply for participation in one of ConocoPhillips' summer projects, which provides a golden opportunity for working in an exciting and hectic work environment.

Students in their third or fourth year of study can now apply for participation in one of ConocoPhillips' summer projects, which provides a golden opportunity for working in an exciting and hectic work environment.

All vacant summer projects are posted on www.finn.no

Relevant disciplines are geology, geophysics, reservoir, electrical engineering, well operations, engineering and advanced analytics.

Application deadline is 10 February.